

Feng Shui Visit

It is said that Feng Shui was started 6000 years ago in Ancient China.

「葬書Soshō」 written by 郭璞 Kakuhaku during the Jin Era(晋代) says

「乘風則散 界水則止」 (Chi scatters by wind and stops by water), which became the origin of the word Feng Shui (Wind and Water). This sentence simply explains the theory of Feng Shui. The energy of fortune from the ground needs to be protected from strong wind, so it requires small hills on both right and left and a mountain behind, then open space and water in front where energy can stay. The Feng Shui environment becomes the foundation of the luck of the people who live there, and it boosts up the fortune and luck which they already have.

With our in-home Feng Shui Evaluation, a Feng Shui master visits your home to check the ups and downs of your land, ceiling and floor, condition of the beams, location of your furniture and the outside view you see through your windows. We utilize the Flying Star, Eight Houses and Yotakusanyo three important points methods. In addition, we look into Geo Pathic Stress Lines on your property.

We determine the best day to place your Feng Shui goods in your home based on Qimen Dunjia (Kimon Tonkou) for the separate fee of $190.

It takes about a week to create the report. Please understand that we sometimes have a waitlist.

There are 2 ways of understanding in Feng Shui.

One is Visible Factor by anybody.
If I take a look at your house, inside and outside, it is not so difficult to know it is good or bad in Feng Shui. I will explain about it first.

Another one is Invisible Factor.
I created energy flowing chart of your house by traditional method. We call it "Flying Star Chart". Chart is created by using data like house direction, location of the entrance, built year, etc.
This is the most popular method among Feng Shui masters all over the world.

My master(teacher) used this method for Hong Kong Peninsula Hotel, Malaysia Twin Tower, etc.
I used this method for Tokyo Tower.

<Visible Element>

A. (Geographic) Feng Shui Ideal
is like this picture. This is a picture of KYOTO.

If your house is located at the center of this picture,
"Mountain" (=higher place) should be located at back of your house for good Feng Shui.
And, "Water" (=ocean side) should be located in front of your house for good Feng Shui.

I know you think front side is located at higher place of your house, because front door is located that side, but I judged your house is facing ocean side in Feng Shui.

So, it means I judged your house is fundamentally "FENG SHUI IDEAL".

It means your house could easy to attract(invite) good energy into your house.

But, some bad points.

The house facing down slope to the right (if see from outside) brings bad luck* to male family members (especially for the master of the house.) in Feng Shui.
*Injury, illness, Business Failure, or Inferior position in the family members.

Because, right side (=DRAGON side=Male side) is actually lower(=weaker).
**In Feng Shui, right side of the house, must be the place for DRAGON, superior to TIGER whose place is the left side.

Also, I am worrying about steep downslope at right side (DRAGON side=Male side).
It looks luck of male family members might be suddenly pulling down.

So, I want you to avoid these minus influences.
Locate Strong Feng Shui DRAGON (Metal element) at the sign#3 on your floor plan.
Feng Shui Dragon will reinforce weak dragon power at right side of your house, and invite good energy into your house from the entrance door.
In a sense, front door is a face (nose, mouth) of your house.

You need to have a good energy (good nutrition, fresh air) here.
Strong Feng Shui DRAGON (Metal element) could do all.
